

Nuno Gonçalves

Nuno Gonçalves is Portuguese and has fallen in love with the underwater world since he was little. A pharmacist by profession and passionate underwater photographer, he started as a diver in 1999 and began participating in underwater photography competitions in 2004. He has participated in dozens of national and international competitions, guided by constant evolution and learning as an underwater photographer. Examples from his career include:

Fotodigisub 2008 and 2009 champion in the compact category

Runner-up of the III OpenFotosub da Graciosa in 2010

3 times CMAS World Champion: in 2023 in the Fish Category and in 2024 in the Fish and Wide Angle Categories with Diver

In 2017 he was the first Portuguese to win an international Underwater Photography competition, having repeated the victory in 2019 and 2024: Mares UWPhotoMarathon in Croatia

Champion of Portugal 2023 in the Fish and Environment categories with diver
